Automate Progress Payments from Contract to Approval

Managing payments against large land development contracts can involve spreadsheets, emails, paper invoices, manual approvals and repeated back-and-forth between Builders and Trade Partners.

BuildPro Land Development & Progress Pay brings that process into a more connected workflow, helping Builders manage partial payments against large contracts while connecting their back office, BuildPro and Trade Partners through SupplyPro.

Take the Manual Work Out of Progress Payments

Large land development contracts aren't typically paid all at once. Payments may be released incrementally as work progresses, requiring Builders to track payment requests, approvals, contract balances and supporting documentation over months or even years.

Land Development & Progress Pay helps standardize and automate that process, giving Builders a more efficient way to manage progress payments with greater visibility and control.

Standardize and Automate Progress Payments

Manage partial payments against large, long-running contracts through a consistent process, reducing reliance on spreadsheets, emails and disconnected workflows.

Connect Builders and Trade Partners

Make land contracts available to Trade Partners in SupplyPro, where they can review contract details and submit progress payment requests that flow directly into BuildPro for Builder review and approval.

Simplify Lien Management

Connect lien documentation to progress payment activity, helping streamline lien requirements and keep critical documentation tied to the payment process.

Maintain Visibility and Control

Track progress payment activity and contract status while maintaining Builder review and approval at key points throughout the process.

Standardize Land Management Workflow

Manage and drive consistent schedules and milestones company-wide within BuildPro.
